THE Stangenwald Block, which is now in course of construction, has already begun, in its incomplete state, to show that architecturally it bids fair to be the finest business building in Honolulu. Originally it was designed as a six-

CHINESE HERE CAN TRAVEL

Ruling of Immigration Commissioner Powderly Affecting Exempted Classes

A Chinese problem, or very properly speaking, a Chinese puzzle, in connection with the visiting to the United States from Hawaii of Chinese of the exempt class, has come to the attention of the local Territorial and Federal officials. The question arises in the following manner: The United States statutes upon the subject requires the visa of some one representing the Chinese Government or the American Consul.

For the purposes of the Chinese Exclusion act, Hawaii is to all intents a foreign country, and the Secretary of the Territory of Hawaii will have to furnish a certificate, which will be accepted by the United States authorities on the Mainland, as sufficient to allow the Chinese of the exempted class entry at its ports.

This requirement is governed by the following communication from T. V. Powderly, commissioner general of immigration of the United States, addressed to Joshua K. Brown, Chinese Inspector at this port, under date of June 19, 1900:

"The Bureau is in receipt of your letter of the 2d instant, requesting information as to the rights of Chinese persons of the exempt class to enter the United States from the Hawaiian Islands."

"In response thereto, I quote the following from a letter written by the acting secretary of the treasury to Attorney H. C. Schavertzer, of San Francisco, which seems to cover the questions propounded by you, viz:—

"You are informed that the department will regard certificates conforming to the provisions of section 6 of the act approved July 3, 1894, relating to the exclusion of Chinese, when issued by the secretary of the Territory of Hawaii, as being sufficient to establish the rights of Chinese persons of the exempt class to enter the country, provided the statements made in such certificates are not controverted. Respectfully yours,
"T. V. POWDERLY,
"Commissioner General."

A Cold Wave Passed.

The handsome wagons of the Oahu Ice & Electric Co. have been a repeated subject of favorable comment here, but at no time have they attracted so much attention as yesterday afternoon when six of them loaded with ice for the transport Federica passed in procession through the streets. A cold wave went with the procession that showed it to be "sure enough ice" as one of the on-lookers put it.

The best every-day drink is whiskey and water, and the best brand of whiskey is Jesse Moore "AA."

Later, plans were considered for a seventh story to be added, but it is possible the promoters will be content with the six-story proposition. The additional story from an architectural point of view spoils the outlines of the other six. The front elevation has reached to the fourth story.

ISLAND SOIL AND VEGETABLES

Good Crops Can Be Grown Here But not Sold.

The Planters' Monthly for the current month says: An exchange has the following: "Mr. F. H. Hayselden, the energetic manager of Maunalei plantation on Lanai, has successfully raised and is now marketing in Honolulu 'garden stuff' which offers a good reason to induce others to follow. Potatoes, white turnips, carrots, cauliflower, peas, lima beans, okra, onions and summer squash are included in his first consignment, and the sale has netted a satisfactory return. Local fruit and vegetable dealers call for more." That's the sort of farming that will help out Hawaii.

It has been demonstrated time and time again that good vegetables, including almost the entire list grown on the mainland, can be raised here. But the trouble is in disposing of them when sent into town. To peddle them around the town is quite impossible when the labor and expense attending it is taken into account. The most likely way to succeed would be to have a central vegetable market, perhaps in the government market, at the foot of Alakea street, though it would be better if located on one of the central avenues—King, Fort or Nuuanu, where all consignments might be sent, and orders received by telephone delivered by carts. The business if well conducted with good vegetable supplies, would in time pay. Half the vegetables now peddled about town by Chinese are unfit for the table, because they are grown by people who do not know nor care whether the vegetables offered are ripe or green. It will take time and a good deal of patience to bring the undertaking to a paying, self-supporting basis. We know of no one better fitted to undertake establishing a good vegetable market here in Honolulu than Mr. Allan Herbert. His experience in this line would be very valuable, for from the day that he took charge of the Hawaiian hotel, he has been familiar with vegetable gardening, and knows better than most people what will grow here and how to make vegetables and fruits pay well.

The Sewer Outfall.

The following are the bids received by Superintendent McCandless of the Public Works department for the completion of the sewer outfall at Kakaako:

Cotton Bros $72,500
Vincent & Belser 65,027
J. R. Higby 41,554

The contract has not yet been awarded but will in all likelihood be considered at the meeting of the Executive Council this morning.

The DAILY ADVERTISER is delivered to any part of the city for 75 cents a month.

It is a pleasing structure of brick and cheons set off the elevation handsomely. The steel frame is in position beyond the fifth story and the brick-workers are following closely. The law library proposed for the building makes it especially adapted for lawyers, and is an innovation which even few large cities have adopted as yet.
